

T G C C T T G G C A

The image displays a sequence of ten nucleotide bases: T, G, C, C, T, T, G, G, C, A. The height of each letter is proportional to its frequency in the sequence. The bases are colored in shades of blue and green. Below each letter is a circular graphic with horizontal lines, possibly representing a DNA double helix or a specific nucleotide structure.